

How to use the Media Lab

The lab can be used, free of charge, by members and partners of the Media Cluster for innovation collaboration, project development and workshops.

WHO

The lab is for members and partners of the Media Cluster, regardless of your office location. As long as you are a member, you can use the lab.

BOOK

Book a space trough by sending us an email: workspace@mediacitybergen.no
You will find all the info you need here: <https://www.mediacitybergen.no/medialab/how-to-use-the-lab/>

ACCESS

Just show up during office hours, between 8:am-4:30pm. Call or SMS the lab on +47 99457967 (Morten) if you need help. Outside office hours: Special rules apply. Contact NCE Media for info.

MEET

Take the advantage of our open landscape, and get to know others. Maybe you will find your next partner or project here?

Media Lab rules

If you want to host your own events in the Media Lab, make sure you can check the following:

- You must be a member or partner.
 - The event should be co-organised or co-hosted by NCE Media.
 - Events should be open for everyone in the media cluster.*
 - The purpose/topic of the event should be within Media Cluster disciplines and/or focus areas.
- You can not use the lab for “regular office-work”, or as a substitute for your own office.
 - As a general rule, lunch/meals should be consumed in the MCB cafeteria downstairs.
 - You may not book the lab to such an extent that it is a disadvantage for others. Contact NCE Media when in doubt.

* This does not mean that you must invite everyone in the Cluster to your event, but you can't displace or inconvenience others who also have booked areas in the Lab
