

How to use the Media Lab

The lab can be used, free of charge, by members and partners of the Media Cluster for innovation collaboration, project development, workshops and more.

USE

As a member you can use the lab and its resources for free for your innovation projects, collaboration with other partners/ members or your team workshops.

The lab is a fully equipped area for you and your team to use. The lab also has a project room, and two smaller meeting rooms that can be booked for shorter periods.

Read about the lab here.

EVENTS

You can also host larger events, seminars, breakfast meetings or workshops for groups up to 50 people in the lab (workshop area or "Showroom").

If you want to use the lab free of charge* for such events, make sure you can check the following:

- You must be a member or partner.
- The event should be co-organised or co-hosted by NCE Media/Media City Bergen.
- Events should be open for everyone in the media cluster.
- The purpose/topic of the event should be within Media Cluster disciplines and/or focus areas.

* Should you still wish to use the lab for "internal" events (workshops with your customers, closed events or such), it will still be possible, but a fee will be applied.

ACCESS

Just show up during office hours, between 8:am-4:30pm. Call or SMS the lab on +47 99457967 (Morten) if you need help. Outside office hours: Special rules apply. Contact NCE Media for info.

MEET

Take the advantage of our open landscape, and get to know others. Maybe you will find your next partner or project here?
